Note: To replace a Thesis Advisory Committee Member, the student must consult with the advisor(s) first and obtain the consensus of the replacement. The advisor must contact the committee member to be replaced to ensure that he/she has been well informed of the termination in supervision. The advisor then can invite the new committee member to join the student's Thesis Advisory Committee. Once all these procedures have been completed and the advisor has a conditional acceptance from the new committee member, the advisor should sign on this form and submit it to the institute office.
